

TODD BECKER
FOUNDATION

Ministry Opening

Be a part of a moving ministry and a job that's more than a paycheck.

This is a job that matters for eternity.

The Todd Becker Foundation, a small, but quickly growing evangelism ministry that puts on high school assembly outreaches throughout the midwest, is seeking a motivated and passionate individual to fill a position of: Youth Ministry Associate

Job Description: This person would primarily be responsible for ministering to high school girls through the Todd Becker Foundation's assemblies. Their main duties include sharing the Gospel in one-on-one conversations, leading girls to Jesus Christ, teaching the Word of God and helping counsel impacted girls following an outreach event. Duties also include, but are not limited to: assistance in setting up of staging, sound and video system for each event. Additional office/administrative duties may also apply for a candidate with such skills.

Requirements: Applicants must possess a good ability to communicate, be very comfortable starting and leading conversations, be passionate about advancing the Gospel and have a good knowledge of the Bible. Applicants must also enjoy and be willing to travel, as the position requires frequent travel (typically 3 days per week of travel). In addition, this individual should have a teachable spirit willing to grow not only in this ministry position, but in their relationship with the Lord.

Wages: The position is a paid position. Pay is $245 per outreach, and office hours starting wage is $12.50 per hour.

How to apply: We ask applicants to first pray and seek God's will for their lives and if He would have them serve with the Todd Becker Foundation. After prayer, applicants that feel God leading them to join the ministry of the Todd Becker Foundation should submit a brief letter and resume via email to: info@toddbecker.org. Applicants are also free and encouraged to contact our ministry office and speak to Keith Becker with any questions or further information.
